

CHICAGO'S CLUB CHAMPION

2011 GOLFCHICAGO TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS PRESENTED BY GLENMORANGIE

2011 Champion Scott Rech

The best of the best met at The Royal Country Club of Long Grove to compete in the fourth annual GOLFChicago Tournament of Champions presented by Glenmorangie Single Malt Scotch Whisky. Competitors tackled "The Grove" on a beautiful day and were challenged on the PGA Tour quality greens. The tournament field, club champions from private clubs across Chicagoland, failed to better par; however, the quality of play was exceptional. Kemper Lakes club champion Scott Rech commented, "This tournament will be won by the best putter. The greens are big and fast; you need to stay below the hole and be happy with a two-putt."

Rech finished his round on top, although tied with Doug Krynicki from Cress Creek Country Club. Both golfers posted 79s. the tournament was settled on the first playoff hole with Rech's par bettering Krynicki's bogey on the 18th hole. Rech will take the Glenmorangie Cup back to Kemper Lakes and prepare to defend his championship in 2012.

In addition to a great day of championship golf, tournament sponsor Glenmorangie presented a generous check to The First Tee of Greater Chicago to help grow the game of golf and inspire kids to achieve success. GOLFChicago would like to thank all the sponsors and participating club champions that helped make our fourth annual Tournament of Champions a success.
