Good Cheer to All
Cockburn's (CO-burns, not COCK-burns) is perhaps the best-known name in Port, thanks to their Special Reserve. It revolutionized the Port trade in 1969 by creating a new category between Ruby Port and Vintage Port. (It is more substantial than a Ruby, but less so than a Vintage.)

Special Reserve is matured for up to five years in oak casks and bottled ready to drink. This dark opaque purple wine has a surprisingly delicate nose of sweet plum. It is much more lively in the mouth, with red berry flavors, a restrained sweetness, good acidity, and just slightly bitter and peppery tannins. 20% ABV.
